I understand that the current analysis is limited to variants which co-relate with disease phenotype/symptoms/terms as mentioned in the clinical details provided by me. Incidental findings which may or may not be actionable are not routinely reported. They can however be provided on request after informed consent from the patient/guardian. As disease phenotype may evolve over time, the appearance of new symptoms/signs may alter test results or their significance: MedGenome laboratories cannot be held responsible for this. A re-analysis or a re-test may be required due to the former; this will be performed (if deemed necessary) at an additional cost. I am authorised to order the above tests as I am the treating physician/consulting physician in this case. I confirm that the patient/guardian (in case of minors) has been provided complete information regarding the test, including its limitations in a language of their understanding.
